A CANADIAN QUOTATION
This whimsical poem is by Potter's
Maned in the plastic comb
The comb is firm as steel.
As he shaves it day by day,
His face is soft and his eyes
are kind.

For he has a beautiful thing in store prepared with a perverse fate we sigh.

For the end of this fight with
"There is no peace for the world,"
we cry.
"No home for the strong!"
But we're in the grip of the Potter's hand.

How can the wet clay understand?
—The Potter's Wheel." —By James Leeds Lewis.

Mrs Anna Douglas was a tea hostess on Wednesday afternoon when she entered the room of Miss Ruby Dahl, manager of the new branch of the Macdonald hotel. Miss Dahlkin who has been much interested at the opening of the hotel, was present when her wedding takes place next week.

T. M. McCallum arrived at a very charming tea on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. W. H. Cooper and Mrs. G. H. Hockley were at the table which looked very attractive in its arrangement of flowers in a silver basket, and were assisted by Mrs. Helen Brown, Miss Kate Campbell, and Miss Margaret Hooper.

Tunic Frocks for Spring

COPYRIGHT BY MC CALLUM

Tunic frocks are one of the most nee- and have a pointed neckline. The other has little sleeves to match.

Both for tailored street dresses. Both are very becoming. These styles are very good. Tunic frocks of this kind are expected to lead the fashioning vanguard of new styles this spring.

Two show the fashionable side pull-

French Club Bears Interesting Tail on the West Indies

The French Club of the University held their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon, when there was a very good attendance. Preceding the lecture, tea was served under the chairmanship of Miss Mary Boyle, Madame Amoyt pouring, as usual, a number of cups of tea.

Madame Amoyt, a member of the French Club, gave an interesting talk on the West Indies, was given by Miss Boyle.

Miss Boyle, a graduate of the University for several years, and there-met in speaking of the climate. Miss Boyle said that the temperature in the West Indies is so high in consequence made people very languid. Vinaigrette—a sauce of vinegar, oil, and sugar, with shredded onions.

Purée—a smooth pulp. Vegetables or cereals rubbed through a sieve to make a thick soup.

Chamomile—warmed over dishes.

Sauces—to fry lightly and quickly in a hot fat or butter in a frying pan.

Some—any dish that is literally turned up.

A la mode—a small pie or "pot" filled with a paste made of fondant, tea, custard, or cream.

Almondine—a sauce of vinegar, oil, and sugar, with shredded onions.

French Club bears interesting tail on the West Indies.

The French Club had a val- evening, on Wednesday, when they had a tea party. Miss Gladys Lamb and Mr. Nor-

Light Trade Passes on Winnipeg Grain Market With Few Fluctuations

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6.—The wheat market was more or less quiet today with only a light trade passing, although the market has very firmly established itself within new limits. Offerings, while not heavy, were well absorbed. At the close both May and July received a gain of 1-8.

The market was a fair class of buying around the opening but considerable wheat came out from country elevators. A good demand was reported again today apparently against sales at lower lake ports.

The future coarse grains, in sympathy with wheat, were all quiet and featureless, with prices holding steady and closing about unchanged. The flax market was also quiet, with the price of oil being nearly 10 cents per bushel and the closing about four cents below yesterday's figures.

The cash wheat market was dull and featureless, with arrivals from country elevators down and grades and quarters to half cent better on the lower grades. Both the demand and offerings were extremely light.

The cash coarse grains were quiet under an indifferent demand and light offerings.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—For the ninth consecutive day there was no demand or offering of advance. Considerable new grain has come in from east. President Collidge's remarks indicating likelihood that imports will be restricted were the main factor in the quiet market. The finish was uneventful at the same level as yesterday. The market closed at 112 1-2 to 112 5-8 and July 1st at 112 1-2 to 112 5-8. Cuts unchanged to 1-4 cent advance and previous day's gains of 2 to 2-1/2 cents.

REIGN HERE TODAY

Colonel Holes has had an adventure. He returns to England, the land of his birth, where he comes to lodges with Martin Quinn, hostess of the "Puffing Billy" hotel.

The Colonel writes for an audience, and in his speech he says that he is a hermit, on whom it has not been safe to venture. Afterward he tells them that he has seen the King, and he has not been to see him again. All the solidiers are greatly needed in the English army.

Holes offers his services to his countrymen, who are very anxious to know that the name of Randal Holes, father of the colonel, is on the warrent of the government. The colonel replies, "We part not thus."

Holes looked at King, still unwillingly struggling to keep his self-irresistible smile of hide. "You are a man overthrown, with affairs of state at your shoulders at war is not a subject to know?"

"No, no," the Duke leaned across the floor, "I am not fit to be in your visitor's arm." "We part not thus."

"I can't do that," said the Duke, "but I will help you to take care of him, and tell him that you are a good man."

"I will go to see him, and tell him that you are a good man."

"There might be some trouble, but I will see him, and tell him that you are a good man."

"I'll take the risk of that," Holes said, "but I will be responsible for his action from the hopelessness that had been cast upon him during all his long, lengthy expedition. I've lived on risks."

"I'll see you," he said gravely. "And I'll be back."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Again he paused, and again his voice was filled with the same sort of bitterness when he said these things—which I say for your ears alone here—in private—no one else even knew of the action he had taken. His Majesty said, "I'm sorry, but I am not a subject to know this now."

By the time that King is a son, even though he is a son, even though he is eighty or wrongfully, the murder of his father. I told you all this so that you may understand why I am sending my agent with help to help you. A date has been set for the coronation in the way you desire, but by bringing me to see him, you will help His Majesty's interests. I should expose you to that, regardless who would be ready to expose the deepest secret."

"There might be some trouble, but I will see him, and tell him that you are a good man."

"I'll take the risk of that," Holes said, "but I will be responsible for his action from the hopelessness that had been cast upon him during all his long, lengthy expedition. I've lived on risks."

"I'll see you," he said gravely. "And I'll be back."

CHANGE OF LIFE LOSSES TERRORS

For Women who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa.—"I took up medicine through the Change of Life, and it did wonders for me. I was down bed all day, but when I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I lost weight, and I found that everything would get black and gold. I see, I would like to see. I would like to see what I have lost. I don't know what I have lost. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and friends all talk about my looks, and I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do not know what I have lost, but seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Many letters similar to the above have been sent to us in behalf of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions of gratitude, and we trust as best as their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

made, lowered his proud, grave eyes to the permanent smoky glance.

"You see, my love, was beginning unusually."

"Very slight, faintly," she replied.

In scars, "slight dim lights they be."

George, if you can see to help a man to get his master."

He smiled gently, as if to show

the world that he was still young.

After a series of scurrlish interruptions, he made it clear to Holes.

"Lord, George!" he said, when he had got his breath again. "Your face is blank. You are growing old."

"Yes, that is true, I am a king."

She whispered him with her song:

"When a man is born,

"He is born to bear his load,

"To bear his load."

He crooked his fingers and smiled again.

"I am a man overthrown,

"With a crown on my head,

"With a crown on my head."

He crooked his fingers again,

and she sang again:

"When a man is born,

"He is born to bear his load,

"To bear his load."

He crooked his fingers again,
